

Traveling Optical Scanner: Case Study on Brazilian Skulls

- Structured light 3D scanning for recovering detailed morphological information from archaeological specimen
 - Accuracy met; non-destructive
- Morphological analysis of Brazilian skulls based on optical scans
- Shape model based on
 - Forensic database 3D-ID.org
 - Landmarks
- Result: Brazilian skulls differ from other considered populations by the shape of the posterior portion of the skull
- Future research: My PhD!

